

Congratulations to our student RAKSHIT MITTAL (2017A8B40984G) for bagging the Gold Medal in Programming Language Design and Implementation (PLDI) Conference 2020 ACM Student Research Competition.

He is the first Indian to win Gold Medal at an ACM Student Research Competition, Undergraduate Track.

His paper was titled “Translation Validation of Code-Optimizing Transformations involving Loops using Petri Net Based Program Models”

He was mentored by Prof. Soumyadip Bandyopadhyay from the CSIS Department and Prof. Santonu Sarkar from ABB Corporate Research

All the best to the team for the ACM Student Research Competition Grand Finals !!!!
